DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I (claims 1, 3, 5, and 7) in Paper No. 11 (13 May 2003) is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that both Group I and Group II are classified in the same class and subclass and searching both does not present a search burden. This is not found persuasive because while both Group I and Group II have the same classification they differ on the disease in which they are directed to for treatment. Group I requires search and consideration of cystic fibrosis while Group II requires search and consideration of chronic obstructive pulmonary disease. Each search being distinct and non-overlapping thus presenting a search burden on the Examiner. The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement filed 23 November 2001 (Paper No. 8) fails to comply with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97, 1.98 and MPEP § 609 because citation EP 0 150 760 is not in the English language. It has been placed in the application file, but the information referred to therein has not been considered as to the merits. Applicant is advised that the date of any re-submission of any item of information contained in this information disclosure statement or the submission of any missing element(s) will be the date of submission for purposes of determining compliance with the requirements based on the time of filing the statement, including all certification requirements for statements under 37 CFR 1.97(e). See MPEP § 609 ¶ C(1).

Drawings

3. The drawings are objected to because the Y-axis on Figures 2, 3, and 4 is labeled "Tct" which is not defined nor are unit(s) provided. A proposed drawing correction or corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

4. The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference sign(s) not mentioned in the description: "a", "b", and "c" are present in Figure 5 but no definition or explanation is provided in the Specification; Figure 6 has "a" and "b" as well as two lines, none of which are defined or explained in the Specification, Figure 7 has "a" and "b" which is not defined or explained in the Specification; Figures 5, 6, 7, and 9 have the Y-axis label "Isc" which is not defined or explained in the Specification; Figure 8 has symbols and four lines which are not defined or explained in the Brief Description of the Drawings (pp. 8-9). A proposed drawing correction, corrected drawings, or amendment to the specification to add the reference sign(s) in the description, are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

5. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: the claim recites the abbreviation "CF" without definition. The Examiner suggests amending the claim to read "cystic fibrosis" to avoid possible confusion. Appropriate correction is required.

Application/Control Number: 09/897,412 Page 4

Art Unit: 1647

6. Claim 5 is objected to because of the following informalities: claim 5 depends from a rejected claim. Incorporation of the limitations of claim 5 may obviate this objection.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

8. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 5 recites the limitation "Figure 1" which renders the claim indefinite and thus incomplete. "Figure 1" should be deleted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.
- 9. Claims 1 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Windstetter et al. (30 October 1997) "Renal Function and Renotropic Effects of Secretin in Cystic Fibrosis."

Art Unit: 1647

Eur. J. Med. Res. 2(10): 431-436. Windstetter et al. (1997) teaches a method of administering secretin to cystic fibrosis patients thus meeting the limitations of claims 1 and 3 (Table 1). While the secretin used by Windstetter is not disclosed to act in the manner set forth in claim 1, it has been established by the courts that a product inherently possesses characteristics of that product (i.e. including the amino acid sequence of a protein). See, e.g., Ex parte Gray, 10 USPQ 2d; In re Best, 195 USPQ 430). In addition,

"the PTO can require an applicant to prove that the prior art products do not necessarily or inherently possess the characteristics of his claimed product. Accordingly, since the issue in the present appeal is whether the prior art factor is identified or patently indistinct from that of the material on appeal, appellants have the burden of showing that inherency is not involved". Ex parte Gray, 10 USPQ 2d 1922 (1989); In re Best, 195 USPQ 430 (CCPA 1976).

Moreover, when the product in a product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior art product was made by a different process. In re Thorpe., 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985): In re Marosi, 218 USPQ 289, 292-293 (Fed. Cir. 1983). Lastly it is noted that the courts have held that when the prior art product reasonable appears to be the same as that claimed, but differs by process in which it is produced, a rejection of this nature is eminently fair and the burden is upon the appellants to prove, by comparative evidence, a patentable difference (In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685).

Olaims 1, 3, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent Application Publication US 2002/0099023 A1 (25 July 2002) Boucher. US 2002/0099023 claims a method of administering an active therapeutic agent to an airway surface of a subject in need thereof, comprising administering the active agent in an effective therapeutic amount in a vehicle (claim 22). While the claim does not recite cystic fibrosis, it is disclosed in the Abstract as a disease that may be treated using the disclosed invention thus meeting the limitations of claim 1. Furthermore US 2002/0099023 teaches that the active agent may be a hormone, which may be secretin thus meeting the limitations of claims 1 and 3 (claim 23; paragraph [0040]). Finally, the agent disclosed by US 2002/0099023 may be administered by inhalation thus meeting the limitations of claim 7 (paragraphs [0012], [0030]-[0035]). While the agent taught by US 2002/0099023 is not disclosed to act in the manner set forth in claim 1, it has been established by the courts that a product inherently possesses characteristics of that product (i.e. including the amino acid sequence of a protein). See, e.g., Ex parte Gray, 10 USPQ 2d; In re Best, 195 USPQ 430). In addition,

"the PTO can require an applicant to prove that the prior art products do not necessarily or inherently possess the characteristics of his claimed product. Accordingly, since the issue in the present appeal is whether the prior art factor is identified or patently indistinct from that of the material on appeal, appellants have the burden of showing that inherency is not involved". Ex parte Gray, 10 USPQ 2d 1922 (1989); In re Best, 195 USPQ 430 (CCPA 1976).

Moreover, when the product in a product-by-process claim is the same as or obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior art product was made by a different process. In re Thorpe., 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985): In re Marosi, 218 USPQ 289, 292-293 (Fed. Cir. 1983). Lastly it is noted that the courts have held that when the prior art product reasonable appears to be the same as that claimed, but differs by process in which it is produced, a rejection of this nature is eminently fair and the burden is upon the appellants to prove, by comparative evidence, a patentable difference (In re Brown, 173 USPQ 685).
